

NACOSS Celebrates 12th Year Anniversary

...presents SystemSpecs with Distinguished NACOSS National Award

Bayo Onimode, NACOSS President (1st from right) and Joseph Aiyenigba, Systemspecs Representative (2nd from left) and other national executives of NACOSS.

The National Association of Computer Science Students (NACOSS), recently celebrated its 12th year anniversary during its 2008 annual convention held at the University of Jos. At the event, the Distinguished NACOSS National Award was given to SystemSpecs in recognition of her achievements and contributions to the association over the years. There was also an investiture of the awardees to the NACOSS Hall of Fame.

Over the years, SystemSpecs has remained one of the strongest supporters of NACOSS. The Nigerian Student Software Competition (NISSCOM) organized for all students in Nigerian higher institutions irrespective of their course of study is one of the results of SystemSpecs' partnership with NACOSS. Mr. John Obaro, MD of Systemspecs, is a patron to NACOSS.

NACOSS is an affiliate of the Nigeria Computer Society; it is made up of over 80,000 organised Nigeria IT youths from 132 registered chapters across the country.